

Medibio Corporate Health Signs Global Contract with Jacobs Engineering

- Contract with the one of the world's largest global professional services and solutions leaders with over 70,000 employees
- Solidifies Medibio's global footprint for Corporate Health Division and Mental Health Check-In
- Next stage Check-In reaches employees in Asia Pacific, Middle East and Europe

Sydney, Australia and Minneapolis, MN USA – 25 May 2018: Medibio Limited (MEB or the Company)(ASX: MEB)(OTCQB: MDBIF), a mental health technology company, today announces the execution of a significant contract for Medibio's Corporate Health product with Jacobs Engineering (Jacobs) across their Asia Pacific, Middle East and European divisions.

The contract extends Medibio's engagement with Jacobs beyond Asia Pacific to encompass 8,000 employees across Asia Pacific, India, the Middle East and Europe. The Check-In will notably be extended to Jacobs' European leadership team driving initial engagement in this region. Alongside the Asia Pacific and the Middle East workforce, the contract is projected to generate first-stage revenue of approximately $50,000 for the initial four-week program. Further scope of works have been engaged and will be billed as services are provided, including the request for consultancy and delivery of ongoing mental health interventions and programs.

"We are thrilled to extend our pivotal agreement with Jacobs Engineering, a long-term supporter of Medibio and a leading corporation in driving the way mental health care is delivered to their employee base," said CEO and Managing Director Jack Cosentino. "By leveraging our proprietary technology, in conjunction with Jacobs' strong corporate advocacy, we look forward to establishing a long-term relationship to enable real change in the area of corporate mental health."

Patrick Hill, Sr. Vice President and General Manager Buildings, Infrastructure and Advanced Facilities at Jacobs said: "Our partnership with Medibio appears to have been hugely beneficial to date. Its analytical and evidence-based approach is a significant step forward for an organization like Jacobs that is looking to move from awareness to action, and from reaction to prevention. As a company that aims to put its people first, we are delighted to be extending the Check-in to other parts of our global business."

Jacobs leads the global professional services sector delivering solutions for a more connected, sustainable world. With a reputation for innovation, performance, and a human-centric approach to employment and consultancy, they have sought out programs that align with their values and integrate with their culture. Jacobs currently employs more than 77,000 employees in offices across the globe, providing a full spectrum of services including scientific, technical, professional and construction- and program-management for business, industrial, commercial, government and infrastructure sectors.

"Jacobs and Medibio share a belief that mental health can and should be done differently. They have impressed us with their proactivity in pursuing a global mental health strategy and culture that is second to none," Peta Slocombe SVP, Corporate Health at Medibio.

The Mental Health Check-In Campaign is Medibio's entry-level Corporate Health product, which is rapidly positioning Medibio as the preeminent mental health technology and services provider, offering comprehensive mental health solutions for businesses. Employees are provided the opportunity to confidentially check-in on their mental health and receive personalized confidential results from an objective biometric screening in conjunction with a 12-minute subjective survey. Employers receive a dashboard providing de-identified amalgamated data on the wellbeing of their workforce, leveraging both subjective and objective metrics. Medibio's subscription-based Corporate Health product follows the Check-In, providing an annual end-to-end mental health program.
